

ISLAND LOCALS.

ABOUT TOWN.
Very cool nights.
Palma road is in ruins.
The band played the Australia off.
The Zealandia had a very rough voyage.
Forty-four years of Hawaiian independence.
Empty is the poet's corner—the laureate's gone.
The Mohican's reception was a handsome success.
Mr. H. J. Hart catered for the Wilder reception.
Mr. Geo. M. McLane, parser of the Zealandia, has our thanks for news favors.
Thomas did it, because Thomas was square; therefore Thomas Square let it always be.
Arrangements have been made for a musical at Oahu College this Tuesday evening.
Mr. Levey will hold an extensive credit sale on Thursday next, for a large importing house.
Second Assistant Engineer Morgan will be to be excused from going to fires for one month.
The small lot on the old Bethel block, King street, 53 feet front and 21 feet deep, brought $2,600.
Several letters, including a fuller report than those given of the Hilo lava, have to await more room.
Mr. A. Marques has proved by experiment that there is something in the theory of lunar influence on vegetation.
Owing to the illness of one of the jury, the longest on the late Capt. Wood was postponed till Wednesday next.
There was a big crowd of Chinese at the Police Court to see their countryman, Ah Tuck, brought up for murder.
Five thousand more tons of opium—ex Almeida—going on the market. That "disease" must be hard to eradicate.
Horse races in celebration of the King's birthday were held at Kahului, Maui, the programme comprising thirteen events.
Mr. Hart believes that hard times will come again no more, judging by his changing the color of the Elite from blue to red.
Santa Claus, by his authorized agent, Thomas G. Thrum, has an announcement in today's GAZETTE which will set the young people wild.
A Belgian man-of-war, of the first class, the Zilveren Krans, Captain Jacke, is on her way to this port, and may be expected about the end of January.
The butcher who stood off a squad of police with a cleaver the other night has been arrested on a warrant charging him with assault with a weapon.
The open meeting of the loan committee in the legislative chamber Thursday afternoon did not adjourn till four o'clock. The Finance Minister was closely questioned on many points, but did not have much fresh information to afford.
D. H. Davis was pulled off his horse rather suddenly, at the corner of Fort and Hotel streets, yesterday. A lass was thrown over him in fun, but the horse starting landed him on the ground. Fortunately he was not hurt by the practical joke.
Although the audience was not as large as usual, there was a fine programme given by the King Kibboke on Saturday evening. It is likely that Mr. Theo. H. Davies, back home from England, will look out from the platform on many welcoming faces next Saturday.
The ladies of St. Andrews' Cathedral propose holding a fair for the benefit of the building fund, at the old church building on Thursday the 15th of December. They will offer for sale a large variety of fancy articles, and all kinds of children's clothing. Refreshments will be served during the day.
Mr. John Cassidy, Superintendent of the Bell Telephone Company, is supervising the erection on Merchant street of taller poles than those now supporting the wires of that line. The new poles are of well seasoned redwood and by raising the wires several feet higher than at present will be a public improvement.
Mr. J. H. Soper has introduced a novelty in the shape of "ball point pens." They are in various styles and grades, and seem to be especially desirable for rapid writing. People who cannot avoid spatter work in their manuscript, from the ordinary pens plowing into the paper, should try these knob points.
The battalion drill of the Honolulu Rifles on Palace Square Wednesday night showed goodly muster of all the companies. Lieut. Col. Ashford put his command through some intricate, unreplicated evolutions, besides many of the more familiar tactics. The moonlight was not very bright, hence spectators did not get the full benefit of what they went to see.
Wednesday was the birthday of the Chinese Emperor's mother. The distinguished lady is over sixty years of age. From prominent Chinese buildings the dragon flag was displayed during the day. At night Chinatown was resplendent with gorgeous colored lanterns, while the air was melodious with the strains of the Celestial pipi—oh—that near relation of the Scotch bagpipes.
There was a marriage ceremony at the residence of His Excellency C. W. Ashford, Attorney-General, Monday week. Dr. Beckwith pronounced the words of the ritual making man and wife Mr. Francis M. Moore, of Sorekelesville, Maui, and Miss Maggie Hervey, of San Francisco. Only immediate friends of the happy couple were present, and the gathering adjourned to the bridal reception at Eskbank, where Honolulu society was receiving another acquisition from California.
A policeman interfered with a musical performance in the Metropolitan Market Friday night. One of the butchers resented the advent of the guardian of the peace, but the latter persisted in holding his ground as a censor of music so publicly executed. The butcher then made a demonstration of war with the cleaver, upon which the officer retreating outside blew his whistle. A whole platoon arrayed in front of the castle. After some parleying the force withdrew, leaving the man of meat and music to mingle esthetic diversion with his toil.
Hawaiian Temperance Textbook.
"He Buke no ke Ola Kino no na Kamalii." This is the title of a translation into the Hawaiian language of the Child's Primer of Physiology and Hygiene, etc., approved by the W. C. T. U. of the United States. It is translated for the W. C. T. U. of the Hawaiian Islands, and approved by the Board of Education. Professor W. D. Alexander, chief of staff of the Hawaiian Government, was the translator, and the book is very neatly published by A. S. Barnes & Co. of New York. A round, clear, large type is used, while the work abounds in attractive illustrations. There is no telling what amount of good influence such a textbook may have in causing young Hawaiians to avoid intoxicants through the work. It indicates the practical nature of the efforts of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in putting forth to avert the evils of intemperance from the nation. Its endorsement by the late Board of Education is at least one good thing to be placed to the credit of that body.

The Bull of Twine Society.

The "Bull of Twine Society" is to the front again with a notice in the Mokaninano that the yard at 10 o'clock on Friday, November 25th, 1887, in white clothes, and that they will be expected to be on hand in full dress at 8:30 on Saturday morning, November 26th, 1887. As the "full dress" uniform of this society is popularly believed to consist of a ball of twine and a pocket handkerchief, it is supposed that the members of the society opposite the Palace gates will command a premium on next Saturday at 8:30 a.m.

The Chinese Murder.

Deputy Marshal Pahia and officers Kanehane and Lewis deserve credit for their efforts that proved successful in tracking up the supposed murderer of Man Chat's wife. The Deputy Marshal worked on the case the whole night of the murder. Two of three suspects having been detained, he kept on the track of the third one, Ah Tuck, the prisoner now held, till the latter was found in a house where distinct clues to some guilty presence were also gained, which were afterward closely connected with this Chinaman. Ah Tuck was allowed to go out but not without being shadowed, and was arrested shortly after daylight in the barber's shop, as previously stated. It is freely reported without contradiction that the prisoner made self-terminating admissions to the Marshal.

Police Court.

MURDER. Ah Tuck is charged with this offense, by feloniously, wilfully, and of malice aforethought murdering and killing at Aala, Honolulu, a certain Chinese female named Leong Yit on the night of the 22d of November. Continued to December 1st, at request of defendant's counsel. A. Rosa for defendant.

Queen's Hospital vs. G. O. Nakayama. Assumpsit for $77.50. The defendant testified: At the time the Japanese in question were sent to the Queen's Hospital, I sent them by order of C. T. Gulick; he was President of the Board of Immigration and I was Chief Inspector of Japanese Immigration; I did not send them to the hospital on my own responsibility; it was about three and a half years ago; a demand was made on me in October last, and I took the matter to the Interior Office. Cross-examined—I explained the bills to Mr. Atwater; I have a commission from the Government; I do not consider that it was my duty to send a contract laborer to the hospital without orders from the Board of Immigration. The case is continued to December 2d. A. C. Smith for plaintiff; Paul Neumann for defendant.

The Entertainment.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society had a large attendance at their entertainment and fair in the Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday evening. Miss Hopper played an overture on the piano, after which the "Pink Sisters" came forward. It was a numerous sisterhood, each member wearing a tall cone on her head, inscribed with a name—"Betsy," "Lucindy," etc. Their leader announced that they would recite a poem by L. Montgomery Milton, and when the production came it was a regular "tourists' guide" from Nihaui to Hawaii. The lyrics bristled with local references, some of them comically funny, and the peaked but plump Sisters of Benevolence knew how to render their several parts with effect. Miss Malone was the contriver and director of the novel performance. After it was through, the fair opened freely to many a stand. The evening Misses "Peak" adorned the animated scene. The more elderly folk treated each other and the youngsters to Hart's ice cream and cake in the rooms down-stairs, the gathering being evidently sociable in a high degree. A material replenishment of the Society's funds must have resulted from the whole entertainment.

Gazette Hilo Letter.

EDITOR GAZETTE: The last of the series of political laments came off on Thanksgiving day, the 24th, and judging from the numbers that sat down to the tables it was a success. The two Hilo brass bands were on the ground and furnished the music for the occasion. It is estimated that fully 800 persons partook of the feast, which was gotten up in most elaborate style. Several new dishes were to be seen which the present season affords and they received the attention of the epicures. As soon as the tables were partly cleared Mr. George Beckley mounted the rostrum and delivered quite an oration. He was followed by Mr. J. Nawahi. The gist of the speeches was that although defeated at the last election they now again bobbed up serenely and if selected were satisfied to be candidates for the next election. George referred to touching terms to Hon. S. G. Wilder as the father of Hawaii and we all said amen.
Later on the day was enlivened by a cavalcade of native women on horseback, dressed in their paus of many colors, dashing around the streets of the town. They presented quite a brilliant sight as they went flying past with all their bright colored bunting flying.
A. T. Atkinson, Inspector-General of Schools, is here officially.

Hilo, Nov. 25th.

Bridal Reception.

Monday evening 21st inst., Hon. S. G. Wilder and his wife gave a reception at their residence at Eskbank, to their son, Gerrit P., and his bride whom he brought home with him by the late steamer from San Francisco. The marriage took place at Mills College, Oakland, on the 7th inst., the bride being Miss Lilian Kimball, a graduate of that college. She is the daughter of a prominent business man of San Francisco, and her birthplace is in Mendocino county.
A very large number of invitations were issued for the reception, and the throngs that attended showed that they were generally accepted. Throughout the evening the spacious rooms and verandas presented a gay and sociable scene. Royalty was represented by the Princess Liliohokalani, attended by her husband, Governor Dominis, and the Princess Kaiulani, by her father, the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn. Amidst the numerous assemblage of ladies and gentlemen were noticed Chief Justice Judd, their Excellencies, Messrs. Brown, Thurston and Ashford, of the Cabinet, members of the diplomatic and consular corps, members of the Legislature, officers of the warships in port, and many prominent business and professional men.
The young couple stood at one side of the reception room, where guests at the honorarium were being received by the honorable host and his wife. Mr. Hugh Gunn acted as groomsmen for the occasion, assisting in the presentation formalities. The bride was arrayed in her wedding dress of cream-colored tulle silk fringed with white velvet. With a rosy complexion, pretty features and animated expression she looked charming beyond the conventional acceptance of the term. Mr. G. P. Wilder merits a triumphal medal for securing such an acquisition to Honolulu society.
Decorations of the house were chiefly in graceful arches of palm leaves at the doors and the windows. The tables were draped throughout the apartments. Refreshments of a dainty sort were served in an octagonal room in rear of one of the parlors, and a constant tax was laid upon the store of good things without seemingly diminishing the supply. The Royal Hawaiian Band, led by Professor Berger in person, was stationed on the lawn, playing at intervals throughout the evening. There was a total absence of constraint about the reception, that lasted from 8 to 10 o'clock, and none could have withdrawn without pleasant recollections of their entertainers and the most sincere wishes for a long and blissful wedded career to the young couple.

Maui Items.

The house of Mr. C. A. Schneider, Makawao, was broken into last Monday night and $90 stolen. Mr. S. was rendered unconscious by some means unknown, probably chloroform, and the burglars seemed to have taken their time and made a complete ransack of the premises. Entry was made by bursting in a small door connecting with the tannery adjoining.
A few of the friends of Rev. T. L. Gulick surprised him with an avalanche of glassware on the night of the 25th inst., that being the fifteenth anniversary of his wedding. The display of crystal was quite large.
Maui has had the heaviest rain during the past week that has visited it for a year.

Wanderers.

Two young foreigners were arrested while reposing under the trees at Kakaako Sunday night. They said at the Station that they had arrived on Saturday by the Zealandia. One of them showed his receipt for hospital dues from the purser, while the other had none, because, as he said, he worked his passage. They had been walking in the country all day, seeking to obtain lodging, and gave climatic reasons for preferring to sleep in the open air. Although all their clothes were on them, they said they had money to pay their way for a while, and would seek work on the morrow. The one without a receipt showed his name addressed on a letter from England. After a critical examination by the Marshal and Deputy, the men were given bunks in the Station, but without entering charges against them.

Independence Day.

For the information of those of our readers who require it, the following, relating to Hawaiian Independence is reprinted from Jarves' history.

On the 26th of November, the Hawaiian commissioners obtained from the Governments of France and England a joint declaration to the effect that—
"Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the King of the French, taking into consideration the existence in the Sandwich Islands of a government capable of providing for the regularity of its relations with foreign nations, have thought it right to engage reciprocally to consider the Sandwich Islands as an Independent State, and never to take possession, neither directly nor under the title of Protectorate, nor under any other form, of any part of the territory of which they are composed."
The undersigned, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and the Ambassador Extraordinary of His Majesty the King of the French, at the Court of London, being furnished with the necessary powers, hereby declare in consequence, that their said Majesties take reciprocally that engagement.

"In witness whereof the undersigned have signed the present declaration, and have affixed thereto the Seal of their Arms."
"Done in duplicate, at London, the 28th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1843." (Signed) ALBERT, (L. S.)
ST. AUGUSTINE, (L. S.)
The historian, proceeding with his narrative, quotes a semi-official record of the London Times on the subject. Continuing, he states that the commissioners after returning to the United States in the following year, received from Mr. Calhoun, Secretary of State, a communication, confirming the declaration, on the part of the United States, of the independence of the Hawaiian Government.
